Dear parents,

When we return to school tomorrow it will be day 5. We will have music and success maker for specials. On the snack calendar today was supposed to be day 5 but that will move to tomorrow and every other day will shift. Snack helpers will stay the same, just not what "day" it is. I will make the change on my website but will not send home another calendar. Also, to make up the snow day we will add it to the end of the year. Instead of the last day of school on Tuesday, May 19th, it will now be Wednesday, May 20th. The same thing will happen if we happen to have another snow day before the end of winter.

Have a good night and stay warm!!
