Our Week

This week in language arts we have been talking about the flag and its importance to this country. They have also listened to the Star Spangled Banner. They are very interested in the flag!

We are finishing up our author study on Laura Numeroff. She wrote the books "If You Give a Mouse..." and many other similar books.

In math the students started working on solving addition and subtraction word problems.

Special notes

Parents are invited to attend track and field day if you wish. Our class will walk over to the high school track after attendance and bathroom break. Meet us there! Each student can bring a water bottle. We will eat snack over at the track but come back to school for lunch. We will have a picnic so each students will need to bring a sack lunch that day.

Our class is about out of pencils. Mrs. Hamm has purchased two packages of sharpened pencils in the last month. If anyone is willing to pick up another pack or two of sharpened pencils, we would really appreciate it! :)

One more thing...

Our class t-shirts are in!!! I have them in my room. I have not sent them home yet. I will before next Friday. They need to wear their class t-shirt on field day and the last day of school. It helps me keep track of the kiddos when we are out and about. :)
